The creative minds of WDG Interiors paired with Bolon Woven vinyl flooring provided by Spartan Surfaces merge to create a couture garment inspired by the merge of the Greco-Roman Architecture that decorates our city and the founding fathers in which many of our memorials are dedicated to. Through dissection of architectural elements of the Jefferson Memorial we are left with a promenade of columns that have been translated to the pleats and strips of the kilt. The decorated jacket has been constructed to draw together varying elements of military uniforms from the Revolutionary period to Modern era. These elements are tied together by keeping the pieces tailored and in a black motif. Fun, yet subtle, glimpses of color complete the garment and give light to the eclectic subculture that seemingly cracks our city's stoic façade.

Materials generously donated by Bolon include the following...

BKB Sisal, Plain Black, 1 yard in an unbacked product and 1 yard in a rubber backed product.

Twilight, in Dawn Blue, 1 yard in a rubber backed product.

Twilight, in Morgana, 1 yard in a rubber backed product.

Various, sample sized products, in 8" x 10" format, in the following colors and patterns.

Spektra Nimbus, Botanic Yellow, Now Silver, Ethnic Kaise, Graphic Screen, Twilight Moros, Trend Metallic Alpha.
